

KEY TAKEAWAYS

An email is an exchange of messages between two or more people via electronic devices.

Emails are used to exchange messages with other people who have their own email accounts.

You must frame each email as per the purpose it's needed for.

Emails are economical, quick, convenient, and easy to store and track.

An email is an exchange of messages between two or more people via electronic devices.

